DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments, filed February 8, 2005, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 8-15 under 35 USC 103(a) have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of U.S. Patent 6,563,978 to Matsuoka et al; a Double Patenting rejection.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim 8, 10, 12 and 14 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 5 of U.S. Patent No. 6,563,978 to Matsuoka et al. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because limitations in the claims in the pending application contain the same limitations as in claim 5 of the above cited reference. Specifically, Matsuoka et al. teach an optical branching filter which receives a first wavelength multiplexed signal and splits that signal into a first component and a second wavelength multiplexed component (in other words, one channel is removed). There is a dispersion compensator which compensates the second wavelength multiplexed component and another dispersion compensator which receives a second light signal and compensates for the dispersion of the second light signal. A coupler combines the second wavelength multiplexed light and the compensated second light signal to output a third wavelength multiplexed light signal. There is also a dispersion compensator; which compensates the first wavelength multiplexed signal.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 11 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Matsuoka et al., U.S. Patent No. 6,563,978 in view of Sansonetti al., U.S. Patent 6,456,770. Regarding claims 11 and 15, Matsuoka et al. teach the limitations of claims 8 and 12 as described above.

However, the claims are silent with respect to an amplifier coupled to amplify the second wavelength-multiplexed signal from the first dispersion compensator.

Sansonetti et al. teach amplifying signals from a dispersion compensator (Fig 2, ref sign 4 or 9, ref sign 109).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the invention of Matsouka et al. and include an amplifier coupled to amplify the second wavelength-multiplexed signal from the first dispersion compensator.

The motivation for including an amplifier is to compensate losses of the transmission fiber (col 3, lines 58-62).
